

04 Programme Educational Objective (PEO)

DIPLOMA IN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

The Diploma In Information Technology programme shall produce semi professionals who are:

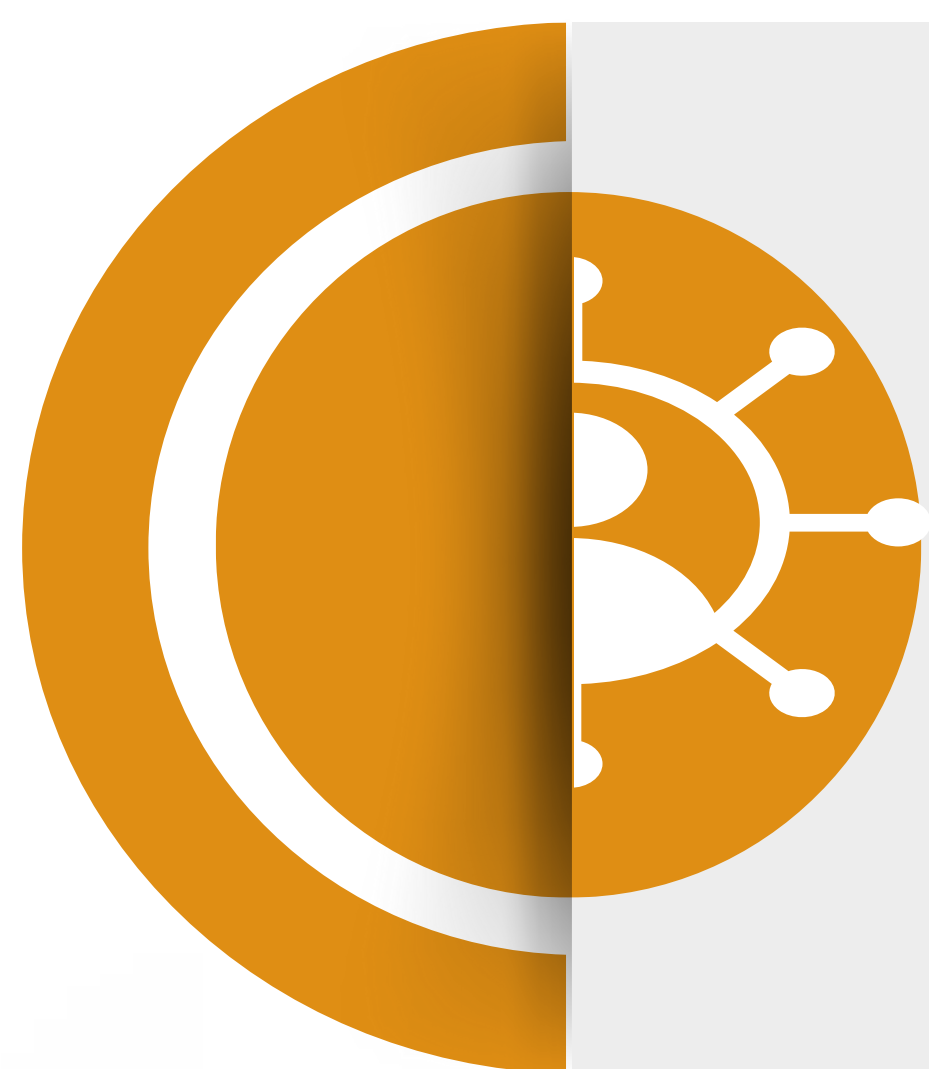

Computer technicians have basic knowledge with numeracy and technical skill to solve well-defined and routine problems in computing in line with the industry requirements.

01

Computer technicians have the supervisory ability and good interpersonal and communication skills to interact in various environments

02

Computer technicians have a commitment to lifelong learning and an entrepreneurial mindset for self and career development.

03

Computer technicians who are committed to ethical conduct and professional practices in the organization and society.

04

11 Programme Learning Outcome (PLO)

DIPLOMA IN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Upon completion of the programme, students should be able to:

Explain concepts, principles and theories relating to Information Technology.

PL01

PL02

Apply design and architecture to Information Technology solutions using appropriate tools and techniques.

Perform support and development tasks on Information Technology solutions related to job functions.

PL03

PL04

Demonstrate effective interaction with stakeholders and society in a work-related environment.

Exhibit effective communication with stakeholders and society in a work-related environment.

PL05

PL06

Use appropriate digital tools on computing related to job functions.

Apply appropriate numerical skills in computing related to job functions.

PL07

PL08

Demonstrate supervisory skills and responsibility in executing instructions related to job functions.

Commit to principles of lifelong learning in academic and career development.

PL09

PL010

Demonstrate an entrepreneurial mindset in performing tasks.

Commit to professional and ethical practices in executing instructions related to the job and organizational functions.

PL011